

THE EMBODIMENTS OF THE INVENTION IN WHICH AN EXCLUSIVE PROPERTY
OR PRIVILEGE IS CLAIMED ARE DEFINED AS FOLLOWS:

1. A badminton racket comprising a T-shaped tubular joint having fixedly inserted therein an upper end portion of a shaft and lower free end portions of an oval frame, wherein said tubular joint has a pair of ribs integrally formed on opposite outer surfaces thereof, each rib having a relatively wide area at the central part of said outer surface and extending from said central part to respective free end portions of said joint in such a manner that said rib is formed substantially in the shape of "T" with the thickness and width thereof gradually reducing toward said free end portions of said joint.
2. A badminton racket as claimed in claim 1, wherein said rib is sharpened toward their respective extended ends, the sharpened ends of said rib reaching the corresponding free ends of said T-shaped joint.
3. A badminton racket as claimed in claim 1, wherein said rib has a T-shape in front view resembling to the outer surface of said T-shaped joint, the extended ends of said rib being not sharpened.
